Continuing Care Retirement Communities

Continuing Care Retirement Communities, also sometimes called Life Care Communities, generally offer a range of living options on a continuum from independent living to skilled nursing. Most often these residences require a substantial entrance fee that may be wholly or partially returned upon leaving the residence. Some residences accept new residents for independent living only and then allow them to move to assisted living or nursing care as needed. This is a sampling of Continuing Care Retirement Communities (CCRCs) and does not constitute a recommendation of any one community. For more information, please contact Debra Galloway at (978) 443-3055 or at gallowayd@town.sudbury.ma.us.
